5.0 Excellent place for first time visitors.

The owner was very polite and has excellent communication skill in English. If you want to experience decidedly Japanese experience yet apprehensive of dipping your toe, this place is as good as it can get. It does have Japanese vibe up to the fragrance yet offers all the convenience for foreign visitors. The room is very spacious and the garden is well groomed. Not only the owner is capable of speaking good English and very generous about helping guests but the place has all the instructions clearly labeled through out the room down to the how many seconds you have to wait for hot water after you turn faucet. (It takes 40 seconds...) Instead of traditional tatami futon you find in most Ryokan's the place I stayed had thick foam mattresses. This will make your stay even more comfortable if you aren't experienced in hard tatami futon. There are numerous other amenities that I can go on. But you get the idea. I highly recommend the place for any first time foreign visitors who want to taste the Japanese home experience. Tip: Don't miss the breakfast. It's the worth the price.
